

PENN CLOTHING AND SHOE HOUSE

137 AND 139 PENN AVENUE

NEVER IN FIFTY YEARS THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 3, 1895.

Well may you say it--that never before in half a century have such prices been heard of. And we hope circumstances will never again make such ruthless reductions necessary as went into effect

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 3, 1895.

A brief explanation: We prepared for an immense fall and winter trade. Filled our building to overflowing with durable and magnificent goods. We had a good trade, but not as good as anticipated. The result is a larger stock on hand than we ever had at this season of the year.

It Must Be Reduced and Goods Will Be Slaughtered Unmercifully

Every garment in the house has a separate tag, which bears the great reduction price, some of which are marked down to less than 50c. on the dollar. Nothing will prevent us from slaughtering every winter wearable we have in the house. This is the greatest sale ever attempted in this region, viz., The Penn Clothing and Shoe House.

GEORGE W. BROWN ARRESTED

Charged with Obstructing Streets, but Discharged--Cutter Occupied by Chas. Sanford Overturned on Main Avenue--Miss Van Camp Entertains.

Officer Mathews, of North Main avenue, served a warrant on Drayman George W. Brown, of Robinson street, last evening. The warrant was issued by Lieutenant of Police Thomas Williams on complaint of pedestrians who claim that Mr. Brown's vehicles, which are sometimes standing in the road, obstruct the thoroughfare. The case was heard before Alderman John. Mr. Brown pleaded guilty, but stated that in the past he could find no place for the wagons. He had just leased a barn on Washburn street and was about to remove them to it. This was satisfactory and Mr. Brown was allowed to go on paying costs.

The Cutter Overturned.

A cutter driven by Charles Sanford, of Wyoming avenue, was overturned on North Main avenue last evening. Sanford was accompanied by a young lady, and they were riding down Main avenue. When near Lafayette street the sleigh runner became entangled in the car track and the sleigh overturned, throwing both occupants out into the snow. Fortunately the horse did not attempt to runaway. The cutter was badly damaged. Mr. Sanford and his fair companion escaped beyond a few slight bruises. The cutter was taken to Decker's blacksmith shop for repairs.

Brief Notes of Interest. Miss Clark, a teacher at No. 14 school, has resumed duty after an illness. Misses Lizzie Thomas and Lizzie Esott, both of South Main avenue, are

NORTH END NOTES.

Mrs. T. R. Williams, of Glen Lyon, is visiting Mrs. D. L. Jones, of Main avenue. Mrs. A. L. Frink left yesterday morning for Boston to spend a few days with friends. A splendid iron fence has been placed around the Washburn Street cemetery. The gates have not yet been hung. Benjamin and Joseph Smith, of this side, are at Sharon attending the funeral of Mrs. Thomas Mackenzie, on North Sumner avenue. Bert Eynon, of North Hyde Park avenue, has resumed his studies in the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Thomas North, of Pleasant Mount, Wayne county, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Thomas Buckley, on North Sumner avenue. Clem Marsh, Jr., who recently won the shooting match for $100 with Sim Davies, is anxious to meet any man in northeastern Pennsylvania. Earnest McGill, of Tenth street, a popular conductor on the Taylor line, the suit of clothes offered for the person who would collect the largest sum of money for Mr. Beeton in his recent contest with Mr. Graham. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company will shortly operate their new culm washer which has been erected near the Oxford mines. By means of this machine tons of the waste material can be washed into the lower veins of the mine. The culm will be the means of propping up the old workings and make properties safer. The many friends of Miss Margaret Van Camp, of North Lincoln avenue, tendered her a surprise party last evening, the occasion being her twentieth birthday. The evening was devoted to dancing and games. Several choice selections were rendered by the Dickson Band club, consisting of William Watkins, Fred Shortt, Charles Sprout and D. Forest Mayo. Refreshments were served. West Side Business Directory. PHOTOGRAPHER--Cabinet Photos, $1.40 per dozen. They are most lovely. Can- ton, Pa. Photo Parlor, 101 and 103 South Main avenue. HORSHOEING--N. NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Alpheus B. Farnham, Pioneer of South Side, Died Yesterday Morning. WAS CAUSED BY PNEUMONIA. His Funeral Will Be Held Monday Afternoon--Sewer Ordinance Is Favorably Received--Temperance Convention Sunday, Jan. 13--Other News. Alpheus B. Farnham, of 906 Cedar avenue, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Two weeks ago he took sick and in a few days he began to suffer from a complicated case of aggravated pneumonia. Mr. Farnham's age was 65 years and his life, was marked with many striking incidents. He was a widower and four children survive him. His eldest child is Mrs. John A. Mears, of this city, and his other children are: Frank, Charles, and Sarah, who live at home. He was not a member of any society and was thoroughly domestic in his tastes. The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Forest Home cemetery, Taylor. Seventeenth Sewer District. Nothing else is talked of, nor is any subject more interesting at present to the people of the Eleventh, Nineteenth, and Twelfth wards, than the subject of building a sewer. There is something peculiar about the sewer agitation. Six months ago there was not a councilman on the South Side who would touch the subject. The cost is computed at $36,000. The main sewer pipe will cost $25,000, and $11,000 will be assessed for local assessments. The pro rata on each property-owner will not go above $80, with ten years to pay for the same. Now that property-owners see what the real cost will be, the sewer is not so much of a bugbear and more than a majority of the citizens are falling into line for improvement. Shorter Paragraphs. Henry Siebecker, of Birch street, is home from a hunting trip through the forests of Pike county. The grading of Willow street is about completed and Contractors Caravan & Donahoe are ready to draw their pay. John Scholl, deputy organizer, installed the new officers of Washington camp, No. 174, of Moose, Thursday evening. Tomorrow's services at the usual hour, 3.45 p. m., at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association will be led by Miss Alice Carlson. Undertaker E. H. Jordan has started to build on his lots at the corner of Pittston avenue and Cherry street. The buildings will be on the rear of the lots. Rev. E. L. Santee will preach an interesting sermon tomorrow night to his congregation at the Cedar Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. The subject will be "Protestantism." Friends of Frank Penyak, the Greek, who was killed New Year's night on the Delaware and Hudson railroad at Dogtown crossing called at Undertaker Miller's yesterday and paid the expense of the funeral. The remains were interred in the afternoon in Minooka cemetery. Emil Bonn, Albert Westphal, Peter Marker, Fred Erhardt, George Wirth, Charles Murch, Charles Kellerman, H. J. Spruiks, Charles Rose and William

NEWS OF THE SOUTH SIDE

Koch have been appointed a committee to make arrangements for the eleventh anniversary ball of the Scranton Athletic club, on Monday, Jan. 21. A week from tomorrow the eighth quarterly convention of the Total Abstinence societies of the second district of the Scranton Diocesan union will be called to order at 2 p. m. in the hall of St. Patrick's Total Abstinence society on Fig street. After the convention an entertainment will be held and some of the best local talent of the South Side will assist. No funeral on the South Side of late attracted more the respect felt by friends and neighbors for the deceased than that of Mrs. Elizabeth Bahls, of Locust street, who, after a ripe old age, was laid at rest yesterday afternoon in Pittston avenue cemetery. Rev. August Lange, pastor of the Hickory Street Presbyterian church, conducted the funeral services and preached an eloquent and touching obituary sermon. A DOUBLE INSTALLATION. New Officers of Ezra Griffin Post and Women's Relief Corps Sworn In. Lieutenant Ezra Griffin post, No. 139, Grand Army of the Republic, and Lieutenant Ezra Griffin Women's Relief corps, No. 50, held installation services last night at the post's quarters over the First National bank. Comrade Fred J. Amsden was the officiating personage in the veteran's room and the officers of the Women's Relief corps were inducted into office by Mrs. Susie T. Loomis, of the West Side. The exercises were public and were witnessed by a large number of interested persons. Afterward remarks were made by the new officers and an address was given by Chaplain Stahl. The exercises concluded with the singing of the stirring ballad, "Marching Through Georgia." The new officers of the post are as follows: Commander, S. B. Mott; senior vice-commander, J. N. Gardner; junior vice-commander, Charles Van Valen; adjutant, W. S. Jones; quartermaster, F. P. Amsden; quartermaster sergeant, G. L. Preston; chaplain, Rev. N. F. Stahl; officer of the day, W. J. McDonnell; officer of the guard, John Wicklenhoffer. The officers of the Women's Relief corps are: President, Etta L. Pearce; senior vice-president, Ione Walter; junior vice-president, Margaret K. Post; chaplain, Mrs. Rachel Hall; treasurer, Mrs. E. M. Burgess; conductor, Mrs. A. O. Bailey; guard, Miss Sarah Acker; secretary, Miss Margaret Bristol; assistant conductor, Mrs. Nellie Shelton; assistant guard, Mrs. Alice Conger. Taken Back to New York. Eugene Doodinski, of New York city, was yesterday brought before Alderman Wright under peculiar circumstances. Some time ago Doodinski was committed in New York on a charge of embezzlement and infant Rosenfeld went with him on the day of hearing Eugene was not on hand and left the infant in the lurch. Doodinski was afterward traced to Barbortown in Scranton and deserted his colored wife after three years of happy married life at Winton. Alderman Fuller issued the warrant. The Fadden Left His Dusky Bride. Mrs. Missouri Fadden, a colored lady, very nicely dressed, yesterday swore out information against her husband, William Fadden, an Englishman, upon a charge of desertion. Fadden is a carpenter and is at present residing with his mother in Scranton and deserted his colored wife after three years of happy married life at Winton. Alderman Fuller issued the warrant.
